His was one of six families which went to make up a complete train from North Dakota, brought to this district by the Calgary Colonization Co.

He farmed here until he retired to live in Beiseker in 1925.

Crossfield Represented At Recent Carstairs Field Day

CROSSFIELD.—Many residents here attended the grain club field day held recently at the home of Clem Sheehan, northwest of Carstairs.

Hugh McPhail, district agriculturist of Oids, was in charge of the program. Members of the Carstairs and Crossfield Thatcher Wheat clubs and their parents were present.

Club leaders Ray Wood, of Carstairs and Walter Snyder, of the Agricultural Service Board, spoke briefly.

Mr. McPhail gave the club members and interested spectators an agricultural quiz of 50 questions which was enjoyed by the guests. Harold Schiele, of Carstairs, won the highest score with 82 per cent of the answers.

The guests enjoyed a trip round the grounds, which are beautifully laid out, with progressive tree plantings of evergreens and later inspected experimental plots of different varieties of wheat, oats, barley, legumes and field peas which Mr. Sheehan is trying out.

George Brathwaite, fieldman for Alberta Wheat Pool, and G. A. Wahl, elevator agent at Carstairs, arranged a display of 12 samples of wheat, including Garret, Red Bole, Thatcher and Alberta Red Winger which were named, judged and graded by club members.

About 80 were present for a picnic lunch at noon.

MORE SEPARATING CAPACITY

Than Any Other Thresher on the Market

the Keck-Gonnerman Thresher

... for 75 years the Farmer's Dependable Friend!

Almost four decades of experience in building dependable equipment for farmers has been put into the construction of the new Keck-Gonnerman Thresher... with the result that this thresher has exclusive construction features which are readily appreciated by the experienced farmer.

Study These Exclusive Advantages:

- 12 foot feeder carriers that are adjustable to any desired height from 36" to 74" merely by turning an adjusting crank.
- Feeder governed by fly-ball speed governor and volume control governor.
- All necessary adjustments for good threshing can be made while machine is in operation.
- Furnished with 12 bar cylinders on 28x48 and smaller machines and 15 bar cylinders on 28x50 and larger machines.
- Cylinder and blower shaft mounted on double row, self-aligning ball bearings.
- Equipped with 2 beaters for more efficient operation.
- Adjustable traveling rake chain back of cylinder elevates straw over separating grate and helps to distribute straw evenly onto racks. The rake chain added to the large concave and grate area gives the Keck-Gonnerman Thresher the largest separating area of any machine on the market.
- Straw racks are divided and are evenly balanced, practically eliminating vibration of the machine.
- Six rows of steel lifting fingers operate up and down 215 times per minute while the rake moves back and forth at the same speed. The fingers toss the straw upward, tear it apart, and shake out any remaining grain.
- Heavily constructed channel and angle-iron frame put together with hot rivets. Frame will remain rigid after years of use.
- Blower shaft equipped with bull horns placed in position to auger and force a steady stream of straw into the blower. Practically impossible to choke blower.
- Full width door in rear permits sleeves to be changed with minimum of time and effort.
- Heavy galvanized sheet-steel construction. Weather and weather-tight decks.
- The Key-See weigher elevator is of belt and bucket construction.

Liberty and Democracy Seen Rising Question in Alberta

By HENRY THOMPSON

Just what rights does a private person have and how much freedom does a Democracy allow? This is the rising question in Alberta today.

Canadian born must conduct themselves with strict decorum, while aliens are free to warp the minds and wills of former Europeans in this country without hindrance and sometimes with the assistance of the law.

The Sons of Freedom, in B.C., have for years, burned their houses, blasted railway and other public property, their women have disrobed in the courts and out of them, and in every way possible defied the authorities. The dominion's broad-minded forbearance fails to take definite action to solve this trouble actuated by a mental disability in religious beliefs.

I attended a meeting recently where two communist speakers extolled the virtues of the Kremlin dominated communist regime in the Ukraine, drew comparisons with this country, social, economic and educational. According to them, our poor democracies are far behind in all these things. The speakers, however, complimented Alberta on its educational set-up but said the Ukraine's standard of education was the best in the world, which is no doubt true for their communist purpose, that of domination of the world.

People hungry for news of conditions where many of their relatives still live behind the Iron Curtain, listened to the speakers with avid interest and swallowed piece meal this communist propaganda.

At the end of a four-hour relay speech, two D.P. immigrants requested permission to question the speakers on some of their statements. This was promptly refused.

Some Canadians present demanded a question period as a democratic right but sympathizers in the audience threatened the questioners with eviction. The questioners left the hall but returned later with some good Canadian eggs. One well placed egg smote an intellectual square on the forehead. The ensuing fight cost the egg throwers a heavy fine.

People cannot express resentment for a dictatorial abuse of their rights in a properly conducted public meeting within the law, except only after being drafted to fight in the shooting war which could follow. The privilege of a question period, where any statement made by a speaker can be questioned as a non-truth, is no light matter.

The principle involved in this case leaves the ordinary person helpless to combat the lying tactics of our foes. Their purpose is only to poison the minds of people before proceeding with the actual shooting war such as is now underway in Korea.

ALTA. RAT SEARCH ON

The big search is underway in Alberta.

Destructive Norway rats, now invading this province, which has until recently been the only rat-free area in North America, is going to meet plenty of resistance to his invasion.

A four-man field crew has been rushed to Alaska, where rats have formed their first Alberta colony. An all-out effort is being made to exterminate them.

Two recent instances are known of rats being found in Edmonton.

Daysland Sun Quoted By National Magazine

In the August 1st issue of MacLean's Magazine, published at Toronto, Ontario, the Daysland Sun, a Community Publications newspaper, has achieved national recognition and publicity.

A recent item from the editorial page is published under "Wit and Wisdom" on page 46 of the issue. It reads as follows: Give Science the Lye—Scientists would have something if they discovered a solution about what to do with the piece of soap that is too thin to lather with yet too thick to discard.

—Daysland, Alta., Sun.
The Daysland Sun is the second paper published by Mr. Pue to receive wide attention this year. In March the Hardisty World was quoted at length in the Canadian House of Commons and the report carried in Hansard.

Everyone Gets Into The Act

Alberta's proud Stony tribe recently donned their traditional war finery to celebrate the 61st Indian Day at Haft. Among the celebrities joining in the capers was former film star Harold Lloyd, right, who tried on the eagle-feather bonnet of Chief George Crawford for size.

Seeks New Alberta Link For Highway to Alaska

An organized effort is being made in the Lac Ste. Anne country northwest of Edmonton to press the provincial government to build a new highway that would shorten the route to Peace River and the Alaska highway by 200 miles.

Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade in towns like Onoway, Sanguo, Mayerthorpe and Whitecourt are urging that a new 109-mile road be pushed through the rolling hills behind Whitecourt to Valleyview, near Grande Prairie.

Present route to the Peace River country and Alaska takes travelers over a winding route up through Athabasca, Smith and High Prairie.

The Valleyview highway, running through beautiful country, would enable travelers to make the trip in half the time. New Alberta link with the Alaska highway would take motorists through Onoway, Gunn, Geneviev, Cherhill, Lisburn, Sanguo, Rochford, Bridge, Mayerthorpe, Greencourt, Lombell, Blueridge, Whitecourt, Valleyview, and thence to Grande Prairie or Peace River.

Active in the drive, just now gaining momentum, is the Mayerthorpe Chamber of Commerce.

Executive of the Chamber is comprised of J. Thomsen, president; J. Sherratt, vice-president; J. Allen, treasurer; and G. Edwards, Leo Crockett Jr., Harold Grigg and L. Gould.

Local businessmen, of course, are looking at the new highway as a source of increased business. Just as important as this, however, is the fact that the entire region would get an economic shot in the arm without any other area of the province suffering because of the new road.

The Valleyview highway, according to advocates, would open up a new field of development, and would encourage expansion in the Lac Ste. Anne and Peace River country that would otherwise not occur.

Cost of the new highway would not be as great as road-building goes. There is a chain of long, low valleys flanked by distant hills, and no obstacles would be encountered in sweeping a new road through the unsettled region between Whitecourt and Valleyview.

The Railway Strike

Threatened strike by Canada's railway workers would be a strike against the general welfare. That's the stand this newspaper takes in regard to the walk-out which rail workers say they will take if their demands are not met.

A national railway strike would be unthinkably because:

It would throw thousands of other people out of work.

It would upset our industry to such an extent as to create almost chaos in the productive and distributive phases of our Canada's national life.

It would cost farmers millions of dollars in lost produce which they could not deliver to the markets.

We are not concerned at the moment with whether or not the rail worker's demands are just. What we are concerned with is the general welfare of all people in Alberta, and all over Canada.

One of the reasons the labor movement has been getting a bad name lately is because of its apparent 'don't care' attitude about other groups in our society. Organized labor seems sometimes to be interested only in the advancement of its own minority (and it's still a minority), and is willing to sacrifice the welfare of others to gain its own ends.

This is pro-labor movement paper. But it's not pro-labor to the extent of not caring about the welfare of others.

Gas Export Urgent

The delaying tactics in the House of Commons in granting incorporation rights to companies desirous of building pipelines, and the reluctance of the Alberta Government to give impetus to any move in this direction, may result in Alberta Natural gas being not exported at all.

This newspaper holds that export of gas should be made, now that proven reserves are assured, and at the same time gas service be extended to towns and villages in the province. We suggest that the royalties from gas export be used to subsidize building of lines to towns such as Killam, Hardisty, Daysland, Beiseker, Rockyford, etc.

In building of feeder lines to gather gas from the area in the province where it is to be found, such points as Lac la Piche, Redwater and Morinville should receive gas service because they are in areas where there are known reserves of natural gas.

Other towns, such as Legal, St. Albert, and Crossfield must rely on the building of trunk lines to receive gas service.

There are, thus, three ways in which Alberta towns and villages can receive natural gas service. But let's hurry up and get on with export to Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast before Texas and Oklahoma invades these markets.

Boon For Farmers

Thousands of farmers in the United States have turned to the use of farm ponds for irrigation, hatcheries and, occasionally, as a supply for fire-fighting.

The ponds often represent nothing more than a dammed creek or a natural or a man-made depression that catches and stores water. Some are small and relatively simple. Others cover acres and have intricate spillways.

It is quite possible that many farmers have overlooked the possibility of creating a water reservoir on their land. In some instances, it ought to be possible to impound water and use it to irrigate a limited acreage. In all cases, if the pond is large enough, the owner has a chance to grow a fish crop, which possesses recreational, as well as monetary, value.

Note and Comment

Now if it could only put floors and ceilings on the thermometer, what a wonderful government we'd have.

We often wonder if our governments might not be run just a bit more efficiently if we remembered that our politicians and civil servants are not our bosses but rather hired hands, hired to work for us.

War With Russia Foretold In 1927

By T. W. PUE

Those addicts of American magazines, like myself, who are old enough to remember when Liberty got its start will recall the famous story about "Red Napoleon" who, in a futuristic story, made war with the U.S.A. in 1952.

The story was sensational, and so well written that it read as though the grim events had actually taken place. I recall that Al Smith was elected President of the U.S.A. and it was he and his cabinet that had the job of leading the Americas against armed invasion from Russia.

One Eyed Floyd

Author was Floyd Gibbons, who always wore a shield in place of one eye he had lost, and I wonder if Floyd were alive today would he not be tempted to strut around and murmur to all and sundry "I told you so."

I sincerely regret I don't recall much of the story I read twenty years ago, but in true American fashion, the Yanks went hands down. As I recall it, Russia had conquered the whole eastern hemisphere, the British Empire, Canada, South and Central America. Red soldiers had occupied just about every part of the U.S.A., with the exception of the District of Columbia including Washington, the Capital City.

But, of course, the Americans won the war. Remarkable people, the Americans.

How Red Can We Get?

There are 200,000,000 people in all of the U.S.S.R. today. Certainly not all of them are "Red" but they are dominated by Communism and in a war will no doubt all be forced to lend their strength against the free world.

China, with 400,000,000 souls is now effectively under the control of Red leaders, and Korea with 25,000,000 is practically all occupied by Communist forces.

India, with another 400,000,000 people is urging the Security Council to replace Nationalist China with the Communists as the accepted leaders of Chiang Kai Chek's former domain.

Half of Germany, and half of the Balkans including Austria and all of Yugoslavia, have probably 75,000,000 people, all under Communist domination.

Compared to Stalin, Napoleon, Bismarck and Hitler were school boys playing tiddly-winks. Stalin now has 1,100,000,000 people under the Communist spell.

It's a cinch he won't stop short now, and sit quietly and count his gains. I don't think, either, he is going to give up Korea very easily. No one can estimate how or when he will strike again. Will it be in Western Germany, Greece, Yugoslavia?

I don't like to be an alarmist but I feel the Democracies should all move forward as fast as possible to place military and production strength on at least 50 per cent of war time basis.

Red Napoleon is on the move, and we must be prepared.

Scriptural Meditations

By AINSLEY BLAIR

"The assurance is broad and unlimited, and he is faithful who has promised. When we do not receive the very things we ask for, at the time we ask, we are still to believe that the Lord hears, and that he will answer our prayers. We are so erring and shortsighted that we sometimes ask for things that would not be a blessing to us, and our heavenly Father in love answers our prayers by giving us that which will be for our highest good—that which we ourselves would desire if with vision divinely enlightened we could see all things as they really are.

When our prayers seem not to be answered, we are to cling to the promise; for the time of answering will surely come, and we shall receive the blessing we need most. But to claim that prayer will always be answered in the very way and for the particular thing that we desire, is presumption.

God is too wise to err, and too good to withhold any good thing from them that walk uprightly. Then do not fear to trust him, even though you do not see the immediate answer to your prayers. Rely upon his sure promise, "Ask, and it shall be given you." Matt. 7:7."

Wheat Carryover

Sir—Official figures: wheat in store, June 22, 102 million bushels; June 29, 100 million bushels. This is a decline of only two million bushels per week, and 30 more on the same date one year ago.

Urgently Needed: "Gentlemen salesmen" to sell this 100 million bushels of wheat, as at July 1 last, and which Alberta farmers will lose 60 to 75 cents per bushel if not sold before August 1 next.

Terms of employment: "sell or shut up and get out." No tough or double talkers wanted."

"Make Way for Youth"

Dear Sir—I wish the government would start old-age pensions at 65 right away. If they can do it with Social Credit ideas and not cost anybody a red cent, fine and dandy. But why should men and women work until they are 70 and keep us young people out of jobs? I graduated this year from high school and only half of our class now have steady jobs. This is because older people insist on maintaining their jobs. Why can't they be retired on pension? Or haven't we young people got a right to live too?

Only one per cent of the contents of margarine comes from Canadian sources. The product is made up mostly of cottonseed oil imported from the United States.

Cottonseed	33,700,000
Soybean	12,625,000
Cocunut	5,564,000
Peanut	2,063,000
Sunflower seed etc.	134,000

Dear Sir—We have received a clipping from the June 14 issue of your newspaper. In the editorial "Alberta's Biggest Fortune" we noticed you mentioned it as appearing in the "Montreal Standard."

We would like to point out that the proper name of our newspaper is "The Standard". Because our newspaper is published in Montreal, it is sometimes referred to as the "Montreal Standard." This is incorrect, since the Standard is a national weekend paper with the bulk of its circulation spread right across Canada. In fact, less than one-third of its total circulation is in Montreal. County Scheme

Dear Sir—It is understood there are many so-called Social Creditors in this province and it is surprising that they do not elect a social credit government.

I believe in the kind of social credit practiced by all democratic governments, that is so arranging their taxation or pooling of money so that it will bear heavily on the rich and give social assistance to the poor, or an equalizer of wealth; but I do not believe in dictatorship that forces crippling taxation on one class of its citizens to the benefit of those more able to pay.

So far as the county scheme is concerned, I am not opposed to it if the people who are to pay the added cost and loss of control are first asked their opinion, but I am opposed to allowing less than five people in a population of 7,000 to 12,000 to give the go ahead signal that will allow other than elected persons to form a combination of local governments.

If Social Creditors wishes it I will be prepared to deal with facts at any time, even if he is ashamed of his name.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON:

Elijah Was Remarkable Biblical Character

Highly dramatic is the lesson for this week. Spectacular are the scenes in the drama enacted from life as they are retold in living words.

Approximately seventy-five years had elapsed since the division of the Kingdom of Israel. Judah had been ruled by several kings and, at this time, by Jehoshaphat. Israel had seen several dynasties and seven kings until Ahab's day and all of her leaders had been false to Jehovah. The start toward national heresy began with Jeroboam, the first king of Israel, who set up golden calves for political reasons and these had led to idolatry and the abandonment of the worship of Jehovah.

Ahab was even more wicked than his predecessors and had for his mate the Phoenician princess, Jezebel, whose name has become synonymous with wickedness. She, at least was vigorous and arduous in the support of her pagan gods and goddesses. Her influence with the king was such that the priests of Baal were supreme and the priests of Jehovah had been killed, scattered, or were in hiding from the royal wrath.

Into the scene comes a strange, mystic figure—that of a rugged priest emerging out of the wilds east of Jordan, dressed in skins and contrasting sharply with the luxury and vice of the capital. Before the amazed court of Ahab, Elijah stalks, representative of the ancient Israelite Jehovah and, in words which were to be long remembered, foretells the drought of several years: "There shall not be dew or rain in these years, but according to my word." From then on the land thirsted for water.

During this great suffering, Elijah remained in seclusion. At length the time came for the final act and Elijah went back into Israel. Encountering Obadiah, a member of the court circle and a faithful, though timid, believer in Jehovah, Elijah sent word to Ahab to meet him.

The king came, greeting the prophet with the query: "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" How often do human beings attribute their sufferings to unreal causes! How human it is to relieve ourselves from responsibility points out the real trouble: "I have not troubled Israel, but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord."

Then Elijah proposed a contest with the forces of evil. He suggested the priests of Baal to Mount Carmel where a contest could demonstrate which god was the greatest. The king agreed and, on the appointed day, there gathered 450 priests of Baal to oppose the lone prophet of Jehovah.

What a climax this scene represents! Evil enthroned and in power but about to be dethroned by one brave faithful and daring spokesman for Jehovah. Elijah placed the issue squarely up to the people assembled: "How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him," otherwise if Baal be god, follow him."

The contest was carried out. Every student of the Bible knows the details. The priests of Baal were given every opportunity to demonstrate the power of their god. They prayed but their prayers were unanswered. Then Elijah took over and, after preparing his altar and having the wood thereon thoroughly wet, he prayed to God and God answered his prayer by sending lightning from the sky to consume the offering.

Elijah was full of faith. He knew the righteousness of his cause and he did not hesitate to challenge the hosts of ignorance, superstition and idolatry. The world needs more of this great faith and courage today. Too often the forces of evil go unrebuked because the representatives of God lack faith sufficient to stage the contest.

Curious Corn

Corn's value lies in the meat it produces. Corn has practically no commercial value as a human food, although the United States produces 2,500,000,000 bushels of it annually. Only about 10 per cent is used in breakfast foods, corn syrup, corn meal, and other human needs, the rest going as food for cattle and hogs or becoming surplus.

Chairman Named
To Red Cross Post

Walter S. Woods, until this month deputy-minister of veterans' affairs, has been appointed first national chairman of Red Cross veterans' services.

As a volunteer Mr. Woods will head a new committee which combines all Red Cross veterans' work under its jurisdiction: arts and crafts, hospital visiting, hospital libraries, soldiers' clubs, welfare, Lodges, entertainment and film service.

Mr. Woods brings to the post a thorough knowledge of veterans' needs. Himself a veteran of World War I, he came to Ottawa in 1930 as superintendent for Southern Alberta to sit on a special committee to consider veterans' legislation. When the war Veterans' Allowance Act was enacted at that time, he was elected chairman of the board, a position he maintained until being appointed to the Pensions department in 1941. He served as deputy-minister of Veterans' Affairs from 1944 until his present retirement.

He received the CMG for his service, and in 1947 the honorary degree of L.L.D. was conferred upon him by the University of British Columbia in recognition of his untiring interest in veterans at the university level.

Letter to Louisa

Wife Faces Problem
Of Unfaithful Husband

From a middle-aged woman comes this distressing letter:
"I have just discovered that my husband is untrue to me.

What shall I do?

"My pride urges me to get a divorce at once, as I have sufficient evidence, but herein lies my trouble. We have two daughters who are just ready to enter college. With my careful management, my husband's salary will take care of us nicely and give both girls a good education. My husband is very liberal and always allows me to manage the financial affairs of the family.

"On the other hand if I get a divorce he will scatter his money to the winds and I dare say, I would have a job to collect any alimony whatsoever. I have no training at all in the way of making a living and I should never agree to a separation from the children. And yet my whole being revolts at the idea of tolerating such a state of affairs. The girls, of course, know nothing of their father's philandering. They think him everything that a father and husband should be.

MRS. X. Y. Z.

Unfortunately, some men who have been model husbands and fathers kick over the traces as they approach middle age in a seeming effort to sow one more patch of wild oats. With most of them this Indian Summer specie of romance is short-lived about him to shut her eyes to his philandering, he is usually ready, before much time has elapsed, to return to the home hearth and rest contentedly from there. On some get into more serious entanglements which result in disaster to everyone concerned.

In Mrs. X.Y.Z.'s case, I should have a plain, unemotional talk with my husband. I should leave all mention of his love for me out of the conversation and stress his duty to his daughters and his reputation. If his better self could not be appealed to, I think it would be wise, in view of her inability to make her own living, and the children's welfare to pocket her pride and live in his home managing things as she has always done.

Of course, she can never feel the same towards him as he will have lost her love and respect, but she will be doing a wise thing for the children and herself by keeping the world in ignorance of the family skeleton in her closet.

The woman who has never tackled the world, has no conception of what it means to give up a nice home and her place in the community for a hall bedroom and the privilege of working behind a counter all day, if she is fortunate enough to get such a job.

Mrs. X.Y.Z. cannot condone her husband's faults and if he alone could be made to suffer for his misdeeds, it would be a different proposition.

But it is well before we set fire to dynamite to find out all those who are within the range of its destruction.

Potato Laws Amended By Recent Ottawa Act

Regulations governing the production and sale of certified seed potatoes have been amended under Order-in-Council P.C. 2805 dated June 9, 1950.

The tolerances allowed on field inspections for virus diseases in the certified class of Canadian certified seed potatoes have been reduced by approximately 50 per cent, said W. N. Keenan, Chief, Division of Plant Protection, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, commenting on the amendments to the Act which is administered by his division.

No changes have been made in the regulations regarding virus diseases in the foundation and the foundation A classes, Mr. Keenan said, the present amendments affecting only the certified class. He said that previously two per cent and one per cent of any virus was allowed on first and second field inspections respectively, but stated that this had now been reduced to only one and 5 per cent. The total of virus diseases in the certified class have been reduced from three and two, to two and one per cent respectively for first and second inspections.

Mr. Keenan said that for the past two years over 90 per cent of the potato fields entered in Canada in the certified class came within the new standards, and it was hoped that the new amendment would provide further stimulus to the movement of Canadian certified seed potatoes to export markets.

Further amendments to the regulations governing the production and sale of Canadian certified seed potatoes dealt with the planting requirements of the foundation class and the sale of seed.

In the past for a field to be classified as "Foundation," the previous regulations required it to be planted in tuber units with an extra space between each unit. Under the new amendment, this space may be eliminated, but the units must be of uniform size in the fields, or sections of fields properly marked.

The sale of certified seed potatoes in Canada has always come under close supervision and under the new amendment, it is illegal to advertise for sale, potatoes or potato eyes as seed unless such stock is produced, harvested, stored and shipped in accordance with the regulations laid down by the Destructive Insect and Pest Act, administered by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

The Cattle Country

Up the dusk-enfolded prairie,
Foot-fall, soft and sly,
Velvet cushioned, wild and wary,
Then—the coyote's cry.
Rush of hoofs, and roar and rattle,
Beasts of blood and breed,
Twenty thousand frightened cattle,
Then—the wild stampede.
Pliant lasso circling wider,
In the frenzied flight—
Loping horse and cursing rider,
Plunging through the night.
Rim of dawn the darkness losing trail of blackened soil;
Perfume of the sage brush oozing
On the air like oil.
Footfalls to the Rockies lifting
Brown, and blue, and green,
Warm Alberta sunlight drifting
Over leagues between.
That's the country of the ranges,
Plain and prairie land,
And the God who never changes
Holds it in His hand.

R. C. M. P. Dog Rescues 22-Month-Old Babe

A husky Alsatian dog by the name of Asta is today the hero of the Mounted Police. While fifty men and women vainly searched the fields south of Edmonton for seven fruitless hours seeking missing Robbie Edwards, 22-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Edwards, this highly trained RCMP dog found the tot in 35 minutes.

Drama was unfolded last week when Edmonton RCMP received a call from the grief-stricken parents, informing them their son had been missing for several hours.

A party of police searchers was sent out to the Edwards residence, on rural route three just outside the city limits, near the Municipal schoolhouse, and neighbors were rounded up for the grim search.

Several hours passed while the seekers vainly looked for the little tot, until, about 4 p.m., two police dogs from the Westlock detachment were brought in.

Working in the hot blazing sun, under extremely difficult conditions caused by a 15-mile-an-hour southwest wind, Asta, and a companion dog, Smoky, were put on the trail of the babe.

In just over half an hour, Asta located young Robbie toddling down a trail a mile and a half from his home.

His parents, who had been fearful of young Robbie's life, were immediately called. The boy appeared

In charge of the two dogs is Const. W. H. Grace. They are maintained at the RCMP barracks in Westlock, and are the only such dogs in northern Alberta.

Police told the Sun this week of the extensive training given to such dogs.

The kindly dogs are among the most valuable and honored members of the RCMP, one Mountie told this reporter.

"You know, we don't stack up to those dogs at all," he modestly said. "And when one saves the life of a human, they've rendered the greatest service possible."
